

LOCAL NEWS.

PROF. WORCESTER LECTURE was attended, last night, by a large and appreciative audience, and gave universal satisfaction. Yesterday afternoon his exhibition of the Stereopticon was witnessed by the children of Washington and Lee schools, and this afternoon those of Snowden and Hallows, colored, were afforded the same opportunity. To-night, the rate of admission has been reduced, especially with a view to the accommodation of the colored people. The lectures of Prof. Worcester have been instructive and entertaining, and if our people, who suffered themselves to be guided by the gift enterprise, last Monday night, had patronized them instead, they would have obtained an equivalent for their money and assisted the public schools at the same time.

POLICE REPORT.—The following cases have been reported at Police Headquarters since yesterday afternoon:

Sarah Green, for striking Mary Washington, both colored, was dismissed with a reprimand. John Colson, alias Mumps, colored, for stealing fish from John Travers, in the market, was sent to jail for thirty days to work on the chain gang.

Lizzie Davis and Betsy Brown, colored, for fighting near the canal basin, were sent to the work house for thirty days.

Nine lodgers applied for and were supplied with accommodations at the station house last night.

LARGE FUNERAL.—The funeral of the late Mr. Pulman, youngest son of Mr. Thomas Pulman, which took place from his father's residence at "The Village" yesterday afternoon, was numerously attended by the relatives, friends and acquaintances of the deceased.

Rev. Mr. McGregor, of the M. P. Church, officiated at the burial services, which were conducted in the most impressive manner. In the long cortege which followed the remains to the grave yard were six carriages filled with the members of the family of the deceased, including persons of all ages, from the octogenarian, his father, to the young children of his elder brothers.

THE LATE DR. DULIN.—The death of Dr. Alexander F. Dulin was announced under the obituary head in yesterday's paper. He was born in 1806 in Fairfax county, Virginia, and graduated at the Medical College in Philadelphia, when about twenty-two years of age. Immediately thereafter he removed to Baltimore, where he practiced medicine for the period of about forty-two years. He had a large practice and was often requested to accept positions of honor in the medical institutions of the city, but in most cases he declined the proffered honor.

IDENTIFIED.—The dead and charred remains found on the side of the railroad track near Springfield station, day before yesterday, mention of which was made in the Gazette of that date, have been identified as those of a crazy colored woman who lived in that neighborhood, and who was seen a short time before her dead body was found raking the embers of the track watchman's fire together. It is supposed that while warming herself her clothing took fire, and that her death was the consequence.

TRAIN DELAYED.—The arrival of the one o'clock train from Washington to-day was delayed for an hour or two. The switch at the Poor's House had been left open and the locomotive and one car ran off the track before the train could be stopped. No one was at all hurt, and but little injury was done. Many of the passengers, among them some ladies, walked into town, while the others remained in the cars until the damage was repaired and the train brought them to the St. Asaph-street depot.

THE WEATHER.—Another beautiful, though cool night was that of yesterday, the moon shining through all the lapses with undimmed lustre, and the surface of the river looking like burnished silver. The Sun to-day has shone brightly and the weather has been really delightful, inducing people to leave the heat of their artificially warmed houses, and to revel in that of Nature on the sunny sides of the streets, and in the open grounds around the city.

GUNNERS.—Farmers from all the regions round about report that the entire arms bearing portion of the population of this city and Washington invaded their premises yesterday, and that the fusillade they kept up reminded them of skirmish engagements during the late war, and that the wildly flying shot rendered it dangerous for themselves and families to go abroad, and that on their way to town, to-day, not so much as a wren or a sparrow was to be seen.

CHRIST CHURCH FESTIVAL.—As heretofore stated, a festival will be held on the nights of Monday and Tuesday next at the Assembly Rooms for the benefit of Christ Church. An attractive feature of the entertainment will be the series of tableaux to be exhibited, the extensive preparations for which have been almost completed, and in which the young people of all the Episcopal Churches in the city will take part.

BROKE THROUGH A BRIDGE.—While the funeral train of a colored man named William Ford was on its way from the home of the deceased, at Gum Spring, to this city, to-day, the horse attached to the wagon containing the coffin broke through Hunting Creek bridge and fell into the water, but was rescued after considerable difficulty, and the procession allowed to proceed on its way to the grave yard.

RUNAWAY.—The horse of Mr. C. F. Corbett, of Closeville, Alexandria county, while coming across the Long bridge, yesterday, became alarmed by the droppings of the shaft pie, and, running away, broke the buggy to which it was attached, and turning up the river shore, ran into the marsh, where its head was stopped after it had sustained some injuries.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the line of railroad extending from here to Danville will be held in this city next Monday. The Examining Committee of the railroad company—W. P. Shepherd, J. M. Chapman, J. M. Booker, J. G. Meem and W. H. Payne—arrived here to-day on their return from their tour of inspection.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR.—So many Knights Templar will leave Washington to-night for New Orleans, to attend the Conclave to be held in that city, that ten Pullman sleeping cars have been engaged for them, and will pass through here with their freight in the train that leaves here for Danville via the Midland Railroad.

WASHINGTON AND OHIO RAILROAD.—It is understood that the trains on the Washington and Ohio Railroad will commence running to Round Hill on Monday week. Slowly but surely Mr. McKenzie is pushing his road on to the coal fields.

HARMONIE BALL.—The opening ball of the Harmonie Association was given at their hall last night, and was numerously attended. Everything passed off in the most satisfactory manner and to the unalloyed enjoyment of all who were present.

The Fredericksburg Herald says: "Country products are paying remunerative prices just now, with eggs at 28a30 cents a dozen, butter 25a28, dressed chickens 25a30, and turkeys at from 12a to 16a, and every thing else in proportion."

The new office of Adams Express Company, in the Mansion House building, has been fitted up handsomely, and will be occupied by the popular agent of the company, Mr. R. W. Falls, and his efficient assistants to-morrow evening.

The report current in the county this morning that Mr. Gilbert Vanderwerker, the former owner of the line of Omnibuses that used to run on Pennsylvania avenue, in Washington, but now a resident of Alexandria county, had died last night, is incorrect.

As the proposed amendments to the State Constitution have been adopted, the Commonwealth's Attorney, Clerk and other officers of Alexandria county, though not recently elected, will have to be re-elected next May.

It is said that early cut hay and straw are more nutritious and contain more fat making properties than that later cut, and is most valuable.

The scarcity of vessels now at this port is attributed to the late storm, those due here having, it is supposed, gone into harbor some where on their route.

A masquerade party will be given to-night at the residence of Mr. John Bartlett, in Washington township, Alexandria county.

There are twenty or thirty cases of diphtheria reported at Orange C. H., and several at Louisa C. H.

Ague Conqueror: No QUININE, ARSENIC OR POISONS.
